Question

Assalamu Alaikum shaykh

A girl doesn't like her father because he use to abuse her, and her mother.. From the starting of marriage itself he didn't do any sort of work to help his family, the girl's mother worked hard both in home and as well as outside... He even j the family, sometimes he use to talk with his daughter or sometime visit them... He always abuses her whenever he sits to eat... He is influenced by her sister who always support him in everything... Now the father is in need of the family's help I mean the daughter's help... But the daughter told that she will do for the sake of Allah... But in fact she does not like him or like to do...the father never spent the time with their children always abuses

The children has got vexed due to his behavior

What should the girl do shaykh in this case

*Answer *

Girl must perform her responsibilities for the sake of Allaah .

If the father has failed to perform his responsibilities then he will be accountable at the day of judgement ,

For example

If one person is driving wrongly in the traffic that does not mean that the other should also drive wrongly

Because the police will fine both

Question

Ruqyah karana allah pe tawakkul ke khilaf to nai ???

*Answer *

Bagair hajat ke dusre se ruqya nai karwaen balke kud padhen duaen Liki zarurat Aur hajat padjae to dawaae lena llaj karwana Madad lena jaez hai

Seeking ruqyah from another person is not haraam, but it is contrary to what is best and most perfect.

The scholars of the Standing Committee for Issuing Fatwas said:

Asking others to offer du'aa' for one and asking them to perform ruqyah are permissible, but not doing them and doing without people and doing these things for oneself is better.

End quote.

Fataawa al-Lajnah al-Daa'imah, 24/261

Shaykh Ibn Baaz (may Allah have mercy on him) said:

This hadeeth indicates that not asking is better, just as not using cautery is better, but when there is a need for it, there is nothing wrong with asking for ruqyah or using cautery, because the Prophet (blessings and peace of Allah be upon him) told 'Aa'ishah to ask for ruqyah for an illness that had befallen her, and he told the mother of the children of Ja'far ibn Abi Taalib (may Allah be pleased with him), whose name was Asma' bint 'Umays (may Allah be pleased with her), to seek ruqyah for them. This indicates that there is nothing wrong with that when there is a need to ask for ruqyah. End quote.

Majmoo' Fataawa Ibn Baaz, 25/118-119

Question

Assalamualaikum

Jab ek hadith me ye kaha gaya ki sirf do eid hai islam me.

Phir friday ko EID ul momineen kyu kaha jaata hai?

Answer

Friday Har hafte wali eed Haj jabke eedul fitr Aur eedul azha salana eed hai

عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمَا قَالَ : قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ) : إِنَّ هَذَا يَوْمٌ عِيدٌ جَعَلَهُ اللَّهُ لِلْمُسْلِمِينَ ، فَمَنْ جَاءَ إِلَى الْجُمُعَةِ فَلْيَغْتَسِلْ ، وَإِنْ كَانَ طَيِّبٌ فَلْيَمَسْ مِنْهُ ، وَعَلَيْكُمْ بِالسَّوَالِكِ (رواه ابن ماجه (1098) وحسنه الألباني في " صحيح ابن ماجه. "

There is no doubt that Friday is an "Eid" or "festival" for the Muslims, as it says in the hadeeth narrated from Ibn 'Abbaas (may Allah be pleased with him) who said: The Messenger of Allah (blessings and peace of Allah be upon him) said: "This is a day of 'Eid that Allah has ordained for the Muslims, so whoever comes to Jumu'ah, let him do ghusl, and if he has any perfume let him put some on, and you should use the miswaak." Narrated by Ibn Maajah, 1098; classed as hasan by al-Albaani in Saheeh Ibn Maajah.

Ibn al-Qayyim (may Allah have mercy on him) said, describing the special virtues of Friday:

Thirteen: It is a day of 'Eid that is repeated every week.

Zaad al-Ma'aad, 1/369

Thus the Muslims have three Eids: Eid al-Fitr and Eid al-Adha, which come once every year, and Jumu'ah which is repeated once every week.
